Renovation Nation With Steve Thomas

Greening America One Home at a Time

Watch the new Green Home Movement unfold in real time as Emmy Award winning host Steve Thomas takes us into the exciting world of Green Home Renovations.

In his new daily show, Steve visits renovation sites across the country and meets the eco-sensitive homeowners who are making the choice to go Green. He tours factories where manufacturers are creating the next generation of Green Home products and visits Green Homes to see these innovative new products at work.

From the latest design to the most innovative technology to fun and friendly homeowners, Steve brings us the best in Green Home Renovations while enjoying the forward-thinking people who are making them real. Join Steve as he rolls up his sleeves and works alongside homeowners and builders on their eco-sensitive renovations and learns why they have chosen to "Go Green"- and what that really means.

It's all on Renovation Nation with Steve Thomas - the place to explore the exploding new movement in Green Home Renovation.
